Twelve months from the Vedas to the Buddha · a handbook for everyone

WE BEGIN EVERY GATHERING TOGETHER

ॐ सह नाववतु । सह नौ भुनक्तु ।
सह वीर्यं करवावहै ।
तेजस्वि नावधीतमस्तु मा विद्विषावहै ।
ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः ॥

Oṁ saha nāvavatu, saha nau bhunaktu, saha vīryaṁ karavāvahai, tejasvi nāv adhītam astu, mā vidviṣāvahai. Oṁ śāntiḥ śāntiḥ śāntiḥ.

May we be protected together, nourished together. May we work together with energy. May our learning be bright. May we never be hostile to one another. Peace, peace, peace.

Katha and Taittiriya Upanishads (shanti mantra)

WELCOME

A gurukul in our own neighbourhood

Bharat: Rooted in Heritage, Inspired for the Future brings India's timeless wisdom to every family in [LOCALITY]. On the third Sunday of each month in 2027, children, youth, parents, working people, elders and civic leaders gather for one morning of learning, practice and seva.

We follow India's wisdom in the order it unfolded through history, from the Vedas to the Buddha, with the Ramayana and the Mahabharata at the heart of the year.

No fees. No sponsors. Only seva.

Everything is run by volunteers from our neighbourhood. Nobody is paid and nothing is sold. Families take turns bringing prasad, and a small Seva Kosh box meets the cost of printing and children's materials.

How to use this booklet

- Bring it to every gathering and collect a stamp on your Sadhana page.
- Read the month's pages at home before and after the gathering.
- Tick off each day of the month's home practice (sankalp).
- Talk about the month's life question at the dinner table.

WHY WE GATHER

Grow yourself. Grow together.

Our ancestors saw development as a chain. A better person makes a better family, a stronger community and a greater nation.

Vyakti The individual
Focus, discipline, calm, character

Parivar The family
Respect, time together, shared values

Samaj The community
Seva, harmony, neighbours who care

Rashtra The nation
Pride, responsibility, Viksit Bharat 2047

वसुधैव कुटुम्बकम्

Vasudhaiva kuṭumbakam: the whole world is one family. Maha Upanishad 6.71–72

WHAT WE LEARN

Four pillars of Bharatiya management

Every month's teaching is seen through the same four lenses, so the year builds into one complete way of living and leading.

Wisdom (Jñāna)
Who am I, and what is worth pursuing?
From: Vedas, Upanishads, Kathopanishad, the Buddha

Life management (Swadharma)
Discipline, balance, focus and calm
From: Yoga, Pranayama, Bhagavad Gita

Human management (Sambandha)
Family, respect, empathy and service
From: Ramayana, Srimad Bhagavatam

Complete management (Rājadharma)
Ethical leadership of teams and communities
From: Mahabharata, the assemblies of the Buddha's time

A GURUKUL WITH A MODERN TOUCH

One Sunday morning

9:00	Aagaman Arrive, rangoli welcome, pick up a small seva task
9:30	Deep prajwalan and vandana A child and an elder light the lamp; children chant the invocation
9:45	Acharya pravachan The month's teaching, with one practice we all do together
10:30	Vishram Water and prasad brought by families in turn
10:45	Shishya sabha Four learning circles on durries (below)
11:45	Prashnottari Circles share one insight; questions to the Acharya, children first
12:10	Sanskriti Bhajan, dance or skit
12:25	Sankalp The month's home practice, taken as a pledge

Bal Gurukul
children 8–14

Yuva Sabha
youth and families

Karma Sabha
professionals and civic leaders

Vriddha Sabha
elders

We sit in circles on durries as the ancient gurukuls did (chairs for anyone who needs them), and use a projector and WhatsApp as we do today.

JANUARY · MAKAR SANKRANTI

01 The Vedas

The roots of Bharat

Sunday 17 January 2027 · 9:30 am

The Vedas are India's oldest texts. They teach that truth is one, that we must live in harmony with nature, and that people must walk and decide together.

Tradition holds the Vedas to be eternal (apauruṣeya); most scholars date the Rigveda to about 1500–1200 BCE.

Key verses

Tat savitur vareṇyaṁ bhargo devasya dhīmahi, dhiyo yo naḥ pracodayāt
Rigveda 3.62.10 (Gayatri)
We meditate on the radiant light of the divine sun; may it inspire our minds.

Ekaṁ sad viprā bahudhā vadanti
Rigveda 1.164.46
Truth is one; the wise call it by many names.

Saṁ gacchadhvaṁ saṁ vadadhvaṁ saṁ vo manāṁsi jānatām
Rigveda 10.191.2
Walk together, speak together, let your minds be in harmony.

Mātā bhūmiḥ putro ahaṁ pṛthivyāḥ
Atharvaveda 12.1.12
The earth is my mother; I am her child.

What we will learn

- The four Vedas: Rig (hymns), Sama (melodies, the root of Indian music), Yajur (ritual) and Atharva (daily life and healing).
- Women seers such as Ghosha, Apala and Lopamudra composed Vedic hymns.
- The Vedas were kept alive by memory for over 3,000 years; UNESCO recognises Vedic chanting as world heritage.

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	Learn the Gayatri with a clapping rhythm; Surya Namaskar
Yuva Sabha	A memory game in the Vedic krama style
Karma Sabha	A meeting where everyone speaks before anyone decides
Vriddha Sabha	Prayers we learnt by heart as children

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

When plans collapse

Told he is to be exiled instead of crowned, Rama stays calm and still bows to his father and to Kaikeyi.

Ramayana, Ayodhya Kanda 18

FEBRUARY · VASANT PANCHAMI

02 Vedic sciences

Knowledge born from the Vedas

Sunday 21 February 2027 · 9:30 am

To understand the Vedas, our ancestors built sciences of sound, grammar, mathematics, astronomy, health and building. Learning and devotion were never separate.

The popular "Vedic Maths" speed tricks come from a 20th-century book by Swami Bharati Krishna Tirtha, not from the Vedas themselves.

Key verses

Sarasvati namastubhyaṁ varade kāmarūpiṇi, vidyārambhaṁ kariṣyāmi siddhir bhavatu me sadā

Traditional prayer before study

Salutations to Saraswati; as I begin to learn, may I always succeed.

Yathā śikhā mayūrāṇāṁ nāgānāṁ maṇayo yathā, tadvad vedāṅga-śāstrāṇāṁ gaṇitaṁ mūrdhani sthitam

Vedanga Jyotisha

As the crest on the peacock and the jewel on the cobra, so mathematics stands at the head of the sciences.

Samadoṣaḥ samāgniśca samadhātu malakriyaḥ, prasannātmendriyamanaḥ svastha ityabhidhīyate

Sushruta Samhita, Sutrasthana

Health is balance of body and digestion, with a happy self, senses and mind.

What we will learn

- The six Vedangas: phonetics, grammar, metre, meaning of words, astronomy and ritual.
- The Shulba Sutras give rope-and-peg geometry for building altars, including the relationship now called Pythagoras' theorem.
- Ayurveda teaches health as balance: daily routine (dinacharya), food and sleep.

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	Rope geometry and a Saraswati vandana
Yuva Sabha	Mental-maths games and a science quiz
Karma Sabha	Design a realistic daily routine for working life
Vriddha Sabha	Household knowledge of food and seasons

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Laziness and putting things off

Vidura names six faults that hold a person back: too much sleep, drowsiness, fear, anger, laziness and delay.

MARCH · HOLI

03 Upanishads

Knowing yourself

Sunday 21 March 2027 · 9:30 am

The Upanishads turn the search inward. They ask "Who am I?" and answer that the same divine self lives in every being.

Key verses

Asato mā sad gamaya, tamaso mā jyotir gamaya, mṛtyor mā amṛtaṁ gamaya
Brihadaranyaka Upanishad 1.3.28
Lead me from untruth to truth, from darkness to light, from death to immortality.

Tat tvam asi
Chandogya Upanishad 6.8.7
You are that.

Mātṛdevo bhava, pitṛdevo bhava, ācāryadevo bhava, atithidevo bhava
Taittiriya Upanishad 1.11.2
Treat mother, father, teacher and guest as divine.

Satyam eva jayate
Mundaka Upanishad 3.1.6
Truth alone triumphs. (India's national motto.)

What we will learn

- Shvetaketu and the salt: unseen in water, yet present in every sip, like the self in all things (Chandogya 6.13).
- Satyakama Jabala tells his teacher the plain truth about his birth and is accepted for his honesty (Chandogya 4.4).
- At the end of study, the teacher says: “Speak the truth, follow dharma.” (Taittiriya 1.11.1)

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	The salt-in-water experiment
Yuva Sabha	Write “I am…” ten times, then cross out every label
Karma Sabha	Honesty at work when it costs you
Vriddha Sabha	How atithi devo bhava was lived at home

LIFE’S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

What real wealth is

The Yaksha asks Yudhishthira who is truly rich. The answer: one to whom joy and sorrow, past and future, are alike.

Mahabharata, Vana Parva (Yaksha Prashna), CE 3.297.62–64

Sankalp for 30 days: Five minutes of journalling each night: who am I beyond my roles today?

APRIL · RAM NAVAMI

04 Kathopanishad

Nachiketa and mastering the mind

Sunday 18 April 2027 · 9:30 am

A boy, Nachiketa, has the courage to ask Death itself about the meaning of life. His teacher shows that a trained mind, guided by a clear intellect, carries us to our goal.

Key verses

Ātmānaṁ rathinaṁ viddhi śarīraṁ ratham eva tu, buddhiṁ tu sārathiṁ viddhi manaḥ pragraham eva ca

Kathopanishad 1.3.3

The self is the rider, the body the chariot, the intellect the charioteer, the mind the reins.

Anyac chreyo 'nyad utaiva preyaḥ

Kathopanishad 1.2.1

The good is one thing, the pleasant another. The wise choose the good.

Uttiṣṭhata jāgrata prāpya varān nibodhata

Kathopanishad 1.3.14

Arise, awake, and learn from the wise. (Swami Vivekananda's call to youth.)

What we will learn

- Nachiketa waits three days at Yama's door and refuses wealth and pleasure, asking only for true knowledge.
- The chariot: untrained horses (the senses) run wild unless the charioteer (intellect) holds the reins (mind).
- Shreyas over preyas: choose what is good in the long run over what is pleasant now.

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	Draw and label the chariot; a question box
Yuva Sabha	List your "horses" and one rein for each
Karma Sabha	Short-term targets versus long-term good
Vriddha Sabha	Discipline in our youth, without screens

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Anger, pride and greed

The Yaksha teaches: give up pride and you are loved; give up anger and you do not grieve; give up greed and you are happy.

Mahabharata, Vana Parva (Yaksha Prashna), CE 3.297.57

Sankalp for 30 days: Ten screen-free minutes a day, and one family hour a week with all phones in a basket.

MAY · BUDDHA PURNIMA

05 Dhyana and Pranayama

Calm in every storm

Sunday 16 May 2027 · 9:30 am

The sages found that when the breath is steady, the mind becomes steady. Breath and meditation are tools anyone can use, at any age.

Take care: no breath-holding for anyone with high blood pressure, heart conditions or pregnancy. Stop at any dizziness.

Key verses

Tāṁ yogam iti manyante sthirām indriya-dhāraṇām

Kathopanishad 2.3.11

The steady holding of the senses is called yoga: one of the earliest definitions.

Oṁ ity etad akṣaram idaṁ sarvam

Mandukya Upanishad 1

Om: this sound is all this.

Cale vāte calaṁ cittaṁ niścale niścalaṁ bhavet

Hatha Yoga Pradipika 2.2 (a later text recording older practice)

When the breath moves, the mind moves; when the breath is still, the mind is still.

What we will learn

- Om chanting: three long Oms.
- Anulom-vilom (alternate-nostril breathing), five slow rounds.
- Bhramari (bee breath): a soft hum with ears closed; it calms children quickly.
- Simple dhyana: watch the breath for two minutes.

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	Bee breath and a stillness game
Yuva Sabha	A five-minute exam-calm routine
Karma Sabha	A three-minute desk meditation
Vriddha Sabha	Gentle pranayama on chairs

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Forgiveness

Vidura tells the king: forgiveness alone is the highest peace (kṣamaikā śāntir uttamā).

Mahabharata, Udyoga Parva (Vidura Niti), CE 5.33.48

Sankalp for 30 days: Five minutes of slow breathing or silent sitting every morning.

OUR FAMILY'S NOTES

JUNE · INTERNATIONAL DAY OF YOGA (21 JUNE)

06 Yoga

Strong body, steady mind, good conduct

Sunday 20 June 2027 · 9:30 am

Yoga is an eight-step path that begins with how we treat others and ourselves, and ends in a still, clear mind.

Yoga's roots are in the Upanishads; Patanjali gathered the teaching into the Yoga Sutras, which scholars date to roughly the 2nd century BCE–4th century CE.

Key verses

Yogaś citta-vṛtti-nirodhaḥ

Yoga Sutra 1.2

Yoga is the stilling of the movements of the mind.

Sthira-sukham āsanam

Yoga Sutra 2.46

A posture should be steady and comfortable.

Yogaḥ karmasu kauśalam

Bhagavad Gita 2.50

Yoga is skill in action.

What we will learn

- Yamas (how we treat others): non-violence, truth, not stealing, self-restraint, not hoarding (Yoga Sutra 2.30).
- Niyamas (how we treat ourselves): cleanliness, contentment, discipline, self-study, surrender (Yoga Sutra 2.32).
- In 2014 the UN declared 21 June the International Day of Yoga, co-sponsored by 177 countries.

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	Animal asanas; five golden-rule cards
Yuva Sabha	Yoga for posture and screen fatigue
Karma Sabha	Desk yoga; the yamas as a code of work
Vriddha Sabha	Chair yoga

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Self-mastery at work

Vidura: the wise are not pulled from their purpose by anger, joy, pride or shame, and stay calm like a deep pool of the Ganga.

Mahabharata, Udyoga Parva (Vidura Niti), CE 5.33.17, 26

Sankalp for 30 days: Fifteen minutes of yoga daily, with three rounds of Surya Namaskar.

JULY · GURU PURNIMA

07 Ramayana

Character, family and keeping your word

Sunday 18 July 2027 · 9:30 am

Character is built through small choices: keeping your word, respecting elders and serving without expecting reward.

We follow Valmiki's Ramayana (Gita Press numbering). Scenes such as the Lakshman Rekha and Shabari tasting the berries come from later retellings and are told as such.

Key verses

Rāmo vigrahavān dharmaḥ

Valmiki Ramayana, Aranya Kanda 37.13

Rama is dharma in human form, said even by his enemy Maricha.

Raghukula rīti sadā chali āī, prāna jāhu baru bachanu na jāī

Tulsidas, Ramcharitmanas, Ayodhya Kand

The way of Raghu's line: life may go, but a promise must not.

What we will learn

- Rama accepts fourteen years of exile to keep his father's word, without anger (Ayodhya Kanda 18).
- Bharata refuses the throne and rules as caretaker with Rama's sandals on it (Ayodhya Kanda 112).
- Sita puts a blade of grass between herself and Ravana and rebukes him (Sundara Kanda 21).
- Rama honours the aged Shabari and her service to her teachers (Aranya Kanda 74).

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	Story theatre; paper padukas
Yuva Sabha	A promise that clashes with a new opportunity
Karma Sabha	Bharata as a model of trusteeship
Vriddha Sabha	The Ramayana as our grandparents told it

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Rivalry in the family

Bharata could have had the kingdom. Instead he places Rama's sandals on the throne and rules only in his name.

Ramayana, Ayodhya Kanda 112

Sankalp for 30 days: One act of service at home every day, done without being asked.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15

08 Mahabharata

Right action in conflict

Sunday 15 August 2027 · 9:30 am

Life is full of grey situations. The Mahabharata shows how to choose rightly when every option has a cost, and what happens when greed and pride go unchecked.

We cite the BORI critical edition (CE). Some famous lines, such as the Yaksha's "greatest wonder", appear only in popular printed editions.

Key verses

Na tat parasya saṁdadhyāt pratikūlaṁ yad ātmanaḥ

Anushasana Parva, CE 13.114.8

Do not do to another what is hateful to yourself; this, in brief, is dharma.

Kṣamaikā śāntir uttamā

Udyoga Parva (Vidura Niti), CE 5.33.48

Forgiveness alone is the highest peace.

Yato dharmas tato jayaḥ

Udyoga Parva, CE 5.39.7

Where there is dharma, there is victory.

What we will learn

- The dice game: Yudhishthira keeps staking as Shakuni taunts him (Sabha Parva, CE 2.58).
- Draupadi challenges the court: "Did he lose himself first, or me?" (CE 2.60.7–8)
- The Yaksha Prashna: wisdom, not force, saves the brothers (Vana Parva, CE 3.297).
- Vidura warns Dhritarashtra again and again; the king listens but does not act (Udyoga Parva).

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	"What would you do?" picture quiz
Yuva Sabha	A mock Yaksha Prashna
Karma Sabha	The one person who warned us: listening to Vidura
Vriddha Sabha	Elders as Bhishma: settling family disputes

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Speaking up against wrong

In a court full of elders, only Draupadi asks the question no one wants to answer: had Yudhishthira the right to stake her?

Mahabharata, Sabha Parva, CE 2.60.7–8

Sankalp for 30 days: Before any big decision, pause and consult one elder or trusted friend.

SEPTEMBER · GANESH CHATURTHI

09 Bhagavad Gita

Courage, duty and clear decisions

Sunday 19 September 2027 · 9:30 am

Do your duty fully and let go of anxiety about the result. A steady mind makes good decisions.

Tradition holds that Ganesha wrote down the Mahabharata, which contains the Gita, as Vyasa dictated it.

Key verses

Karmaṇy evādhikāras te mā phaleṣu kadācana
Bhagavad Gita 2.47
Your right is to action alone, never to its fruits.

Yogasthaḥ kuru karmāṇi … samatvaṁ yoga ucyate
Bhagavad Gita 2.48
Act while established in balance; evenness of mind is yoga.

Uddhared ātmanātmānaṁ nātmānam avasādayet
Bhagavad Gita 6.5
Lift yourself by your own effort; never pull yourself down.

Yad yad ācarati śreṣṭhas tat tad evetaro janaḥ
Bhagavad Gita 3.21
Whatever a great person does, others follow.

What we will learn

- Arjuna at Kurukshetra puts down his bow, overwhelmed by doubt; Krishna helps him see clearly, and Arjuna chooses to act.
- The sthitaprajña, the person of steady mind (2.54–2.72).
- Krishna, the greatest teacher, chose to serve as a charioteer.

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	Paper chariot craft with a Gita value on each wheel
Yuva Sabha	"My Kurukshetra": one hard choice, seen through 2.47
Karma Sabha	A manager pressed to cut an ethical corner
Vriddha Sabha	When the Gita guided our lives

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Loyalty versus what is right

Karna turns down Krishna's offer out of loyalty to Duryodhana, yet admits: where there is dharma, there is victory.

Mahabharata, Udyoga Parva, CE 5.141.33

Sankalp for 30 days: Do one duty fully every day, without complaint and without worrying about the result.

OCTOBER · NAVARATRI · SHARAD PURNIMA

10 Srimad Bhagavatam

Devotion, courage and joy in service

Sunday 17 October 2027 · 9:30 am

Devotion is open to everyone: a five-year-old, a poor friend or a whole village. Love and service, not status, bring us close to the divine.

We place the Bhagavatam here for the era of its story, Krishna's life; scholars date the text to about the 9th–10th century CE.

Key verses

Sa vai puṁsāṁ paro dharmo yato bhaktir adhokṣaje

Bhagavatam 1.2.6

The highest dharma is selfless, unbroken devotion.

Śravaṇaṁ kīrtanaṁ viṣṇoḥ smaraṇaṁ pāda-sevanam, arcanaṁ vandanaṁ dāsyaṁ sakhyam ātma-nivedanam

Bhagavatam 7.5.23

The nine forms of devotion, from listening and singing to friendship and self-offering.

What we will learn

- Dhruva, aged five, does not give up and becomes the Pole Star (Canto 4).
- Prahlada holds to truth against his powerful father (Canto 7).
- Krishna lifts Govardhan, and every villager helps hold it up with a stick (Canto 10).
- Krishna runs barefoot to welcome his poor friend Sudama (Canto 10).

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	Find the Pole Star; a paper Govardhan
Yuva Sabha	One act of service for someone who has less
Karma Sabha	Govardhan leadership: everyone holds a stick
Vriddha Sabha	Bhajans and Krishna stories of our region

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Courage at any age

The aged vulture Jatayu sees Ravana carrying Sita away and, though old and alone, stands up to fight him.

Ramayana, Aranya Kanda 51

Sankalp for 30 days: One act of selfless service each week, and one small personal goal kept daily, like Dhruva.

NOVEMBER · KARTIK PURNIMA

11 India in the Buddha's time

An age of questions and assemblies

Sunday 21 November 2027 · 9:30 am

Around the 6th–5th century BCE, India was full of new cities, trade and bold thinkers. Kingdoms and republics debated and governed through assemblies.

Key verses

Yāvakīvañca, ānanda, vajjī abhiṇhaṁ sannipātā … vuddhiyeva pāṭikaṅkhā, no parihāni
Mahaparinibbana Sutta (Digha Nikaya 16)
As long as the Vajjis meet often and in large numbers, they will prosper, not decline.

Parasparopagraho jīvānām
Tattvartha Sutra 5.21 (Jain)
All living beings support one another.

What we will learn

- The sixteen Mahajanapadas: Magadha, Kosala, Vatsa, Avanti, the Vajjis and more.
- The Buddha's seven conditions for a community's welfare: meet often, in harmony; keep good laws; respect elders; protect women; honour shrines; support the wise.
- Mahavira taught ahimsa and that truth has many sides (anekāntavāda).

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	Colour a map of the Mahajanapadas
Yuva Sabha	A mock assembly with voting tokens
Karma Sabha	The seven conditions as a health check for our ward
Vriddha Sabha	Local history of our area

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Favouring your own

Dhritarashtra knows where dharma lies, yet cannot bring himself to give up his son Duryodhana.

12 Gautama Buddha

The middle way and a compassionate mind

Sunday 19 December 2027 · 9:30 am

Siddhartha left comfort to understand suffering and found the middle way. His message of a trained mind, right action and compassion is part of India's shared heritage.

Scholars place the Buddha's life around the 5th century BCE; older estimates say the 6th.

Key verses

Manopubbaṅgamā dhammā manoseṭṭhā manomayā
Dhammapada 1
Mind comes first; all things are shaped by the mind.

Na hi verena verāni sammantīdha kudācanaṁ, averena ca sammanti esa dhammo sanantano
Dhammapada 5
Hatred never ends through hatred, only through love. This is an eternal law.

Attadīpā viharatha
Mahaparinibbana Sutta
Be a lamp unto yourselves.

What we will learn

- His life: Lumbini, Bodh Gaya, the first teaching at Sarnath, Kushinagar.
- The Four Noble Truths and the Noble Eightfold Path.
- The Kalama Sutta: test a teaching for yourself before you accept it.
- Our flag's Dharma Chakra and our national emblem come from Sarnath.

In the circles

Bal Gurukul	The insult that was not accepted; a paper lotus
Yuva Sabha	Check three viral claims before forwarding
Karma Sabha	Right speech and right livelihood at work
Vriddha Sabha	Kisa Gotami: change, loss and acceptance

LIFE'S QUESTION, FROM THE EPICS

Second chances

Rama's advisers doubt Vibhishana, but Rama gives him refuge: shelter for anyone who asks, even Ravana himself.

Ramayana, Yuddha Kanda 18.33

Sankalp for 30 days: Two minutes of loving-kindness each night, and our family's pledge for 2028 on the wall at home.

Ramayana references follow Valmiki (Gita Press sarga numbers). Mahabharata references follow the BORI critical edition (CE chapter.verse); popular translations number chapters differently.

TELLING STORIES TRUTHFULLY

Every story, with its source

Our epics are living traditions, retold for over 2,000 years. We tell every story, and we say where it comes from.

Much-loved story or line	Where it comes from
The Lakshman Rekha	Not in Valmiki; from later tradition, including Tulsidas
Shabari tasting the berries	Later devotional retellings; in Valmiki she offers fruits she gathered
The squirrel at Rama Setu	Folk and regional tradition
Janani janmabhūmiś ca svargād api garīyasī	Not in the critical edition of the Ramayana; a later addition
Ahiṁsā paramo dharmaḥ	In the Mahabharata; the popular second half, dharma hiṁsā tathaiva ca, is a modern addition
Dharmo rakṣati rakṣitaḥ	Manusmriti 8.15; in the Mahabharata spoken by Draupadi (CE 3.31.7)
The Yaksha's "greatest wonder"	In popular printed editions (Vana Parva 313), not the critical edition

We label sources four ways: Valmiki Ramayana · Mahabharata (critical edition) · Ramcharitmanas of Tulsidas · regional or folk tradition.

KEEP THE THREAD ALIVE

Between gatherings

Week 1	Verse of the month Shared on WhatsApp; learn it as a family.
Week 2	Family small experiment Try the month's teaching for one week, such as Vidura's rule against delay, and tell us what happened.
Week 3	Youth-led bhajan jam or heritage walk Informal, open to all, optional.
Week 4	A personal invitation Your lane's volunteer invites you to the next gathering.

The big day: December

A Ramayana–Mahabharata day that every circle prepares for all year: children in costume, a youth quiz, elders' storytelling, recitation, an exhibition of the year's work and the Sanskar Samman for everyone with ten stamps.

EVERYONE HAS A ROLE

Become a sevak

This gurukul belongs to all of us. Choose a role, even for one Sunday.

- Welcome desk and registration
- Seating and elders' care
- Children's circle helper
- Stage, sound and timekeeping
- Water and prasad
- Photos and WhatsApp updates
- Clean-up
- Lane volunteer: invite 5–10 families
- Storyteller or bhajan leader
- Youth quiz master or jam lead

Ways to give without money

- Bring prasad in turn (five families each month).
- Lend durries, chairs, a sound system or a projector.
- Open a hall, courtyard or auditorium for one morning.

Seva Kosh. A transparent box at every gathering meets printing and children's materials, about ₹3,500 a month. Giving is voluntary; accounts are read out and posted every quarter.

OUR PROMISE TO FAMILIES

Safe, open and respectful

- Every volunteer signs a short code of conduct.
- No volunteer is ever alone with a child.
- Photos are taken only with written consent, and no child is named or tagged online.
- No shouting, punishment or humiliation, ever.
- One named person handles any concern: [NAME] · [PHONE].
- Every family is welcome, of every community and background.
- No politics: no party symbols, banners or campaigning at any gathering.
- Chairs, a microphone and large print for anyone who needs them.

Mantras for the year

ॐ भूर्भुवः स्वः । तत्सवितुर्वरेण्यं भर्गो देवस्य धीमहि । धियो यो नः प्रचोदयात् ॥

Gayatri, Rigveda 3.62.10: may the divine light inspire our minds.

असतो मा सद्गमय । तमसो मा ज्योतिर्गमय । मृत्योर्मा अमृतं गमय ॥

Brihadaranyaka Upanishad 1.3.28: lead me from untruth to truth, darkness to light, death to immortality.

सं गच्छध्वं सं वदध्वं सं वो मनांसि जानताम् ॥

Rigveda 10.191.2: walk together, speak together, let your minds be in harmony.

सर्वे भवन्तु सुखिनः । सर्वे सन्तु निरामयाः ।
सर्वे भद्राणि पश्यन्तु । मा कश्चिद् दुःखभाग्भवेत् ॥

Traditional closing prayer: may all be happy, may all be free from illness, may all see good, may no one suffer.
